

Cooking Show from P. Allen Smith

Gardening celebrity, designer and lifestyle expert P. Allen Smith is premiering a new television show that will combine the gardening and dining experience. The new PBS show, "P. Allen Smith's Garden to Table," is inspired by his new cookbook, P. Allen Smith's Seasonal Recipes from the Garden. The show features growing tips, seasonal recipes and decorating ideas designed to help viewers incorporate the garden-to-table concept into their lifestyle. Check local listings and watch the show to see what items your customers may be requesting. GP

Dan Heims on Martha

Dan Heims, president of Terra Nova Nurseries and well-known industry horticulturist, made an appearance as a guest ments featuring Dan, who was introduced by Martha as one of the nation's leading breeders.

During the segments, Martha and Dan discussed plant discovery and breeding, including the qualities Terra Nova seeks in plants it uses in hybridization. The pair also viewed a selection of new plants for 2011, including Acanthus Whitewater, Heuchera Georgia Peach and Tiarella Jeepers Creepers. All members of the studio audience received a copy of the Terra Nova plant catalog.

Earlier that same week, Heims was also featured as a radio guest on the Martha Stewart Living Channel show, "Homegrown."

Garden Book Publisher Passes Away

Roger Waynick, Cool Springs Press founder and president, passed away unexpectedly on March 22. The cause was complications from a massive stroke. He is survived by his wife of 25 years, Nancy Malone Waynick; his mother, June Pate Waynick; daughters, Elizabeth Waynick and Kathleen Waynick; and sons, William Waynick II and Roger Waynick, Jr.

Cool Springs Press is the largest publisher of gardening books in the United States. The company specializes in publishing regional gardening information, and their titles are popular with garden center customers. An official release from the Cool Springs Press family states: "We are unbelievably shocked. Roger was larger than life and always sought new adventures, both in life and in the publishing world he loved." GP
